Funeral services pending for 6 siblings killed in house fire

COURIER STAFF REPORT

The blaze was reported shortly after 3 a.m. Saturday when the Switzerland County Sheriff's Office received a call concerning a house fire at 9573 Lewis Drive, located just off S.R. 56 about 7 miles north of Vevay.

The sheriff's office and multiple fire departments responded to the remote location but upon arrival found the two story residence fully engulfed, with the second floor eventually collapsing onto the first floor and the first floor then partially collapsing into the basement.

After extinguishing the fire, it was determined that multiple victims were unable to make it out of the residence. Six bodies were recovered and transported to Madison, Indiana, for autopsy on Sunday.

Based on the investigation and autopsies, the Switzerland County Coroner's Office identified the six deceased victims as Paige Allison Marie Ridener, 25; James Samuel Ridener, 15; Jordan Thomas Ridener, 13; Joshua Austin Ridener, 12; Emilee Alyssa Ridener, 11; and Elizabeth Grace Ridener, 10.

The five youngest siblings lived at the residence while Paige Ridener, a 2013 graduate of Switzerland County High School, had recently been staying at the home.

Paige Ridener's boyfriend, Joseph Buchheit, 33, was also at the residence when the fire started but escaped the home without injury. He attempted to re-enter the home to get to other occupants but was unable to do that due to the heavy fire and smoke.

The cause of the fire and the cause of the deaths has not yet been determined; however, no foul play is suspected at this time.

An investigation into the fire is ongoing by the Indiana State Police, Indiana State Fire Marshal's Office and Switzerland County Coroner's Office. Investigators were on scene for hours and both drone imaging and 3D imaging technology were collected in the investigation.

"It appears the second fell into the first floor and then some collapse of the basement structure as well," said David Hosick, Indiana Department of Homeland Security.

They were assisted at the scene by the Switzerland County Sheriff's Office, Switzerland County EMS, East Enterprise Fire Department, Jeff-Craig Fire Department, Bear Branch Fire Department, Moorefield Fire Department, and Posey Township Fire Department.

Funeral arrangements for all six family members are pending at the Haskell & Morrison Funeral Home in Vevay. As news of the tragedy began circulating Switzerland and surrounding counties Saturday, a Ridener Family Fund was established on GoFundMe.com to help the family with expenses.

The fund quickly exceeded an initial $20,000 goal and was at $33,804 Monday morning with 380 donors contributing.

The home, located about 7 miles from Vevay, caught fire at about 3 a.m. Saturday and was fully involved by the time firefighters arrived. A seventh person was at the home when the fire broke out. He escaped without injury but was unable to help the others due to heavy fire and smoke. The fire remains under iunvestigation but no foul plays is suspected. MPD drug investigation leads to four arrests after home search

COURIER STAFF REPORT

A Madison Police Department narcotics investigation seized drugs, marijuana and cash and arrested four adults while executing a search warrant in the 700 block of West Third Street on Friday.

The warrant, the result of information obtained through an ongoing narcotics investigation led by Madison Police Detectives Ricky Harris and Kyle Cutshaw, targeted a residence at 732 W. First Jefferson County COVID-19 case reported

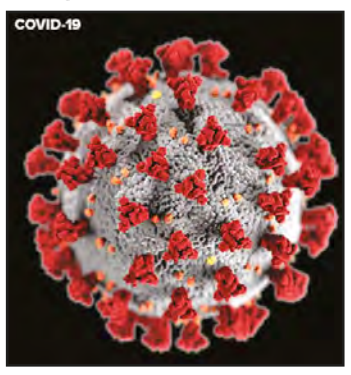
Courier staff report

The Jefferson County Health Department on Monday confirmed the county's first positive case of the novel coronavirus COVID-19.

According to Dr. John Hossler, health officer for Jefferson County, the patient was tested in another county with Jefferson County then notified of the positive result.

The county received notice of the positive case in consultation with the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and Indiana State Department of Health.

Hossler declined to give specific details on where the person was tested, to what degree the person was ill or whether the person had been allowed to quarantine at home or was admitted to a hospital. However, the health department did issue a statement by mid-afternoon explaining that it had begun following leads in the case to determine who else might have been exposed.



"The county is working closely with the state health department to identify any close contacts of the patient who might have been exposed to ensure that appropriate precautions are taken in accordance with CDC guidance," the statement said.

Symptoms of the coronavirus include fever, cough and shortness of breath. Hand washing, avoiding touching the eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands and avoiding contact with people who are sick are the best ways to avoid contracting the virus. People should stay home when they are sick, cover their cough or sneeze and clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

Meanwhile, an 81-year-old male is the first patient to die in Batesville with COVID-19. The

Burglary in progress foiled at storage unit

COURIER STAFF REPORT

Madison Police responding to a burglary in progress at a downtown storage facility arrested a Kentucky man Thursday, charging him with felony burglary and misdemeanor criminal mischief.

Patrolman Josh Nolan was the first officer to arrive on scene at about 10:38 p.m. at the Storage Express, 1054 W. Second St. Upon arrival, Nolan heard noises coming from inside a storage unit and noted the door was partially open and the lock had been cut.

Upon entry, Nolan located a male subject inside, and took him into custody without incident.

The man arrested was identified as Deon C. Smith, 34, Shepherdsville, Kentucky. Also located at the scene was Smith's backpack, which contained tools known to be utilized in burglaries.

Smith was transported to the Jefferson County Jail facing preliminary charges of burglary, a level 4 felony, and criminal mischief, a Class A misdemeanor.

Nolan was assisted at the scene by MPD Sergeant R. Wayne Phillips and Patrolman James Lee.

Keep your distance

A group of teens shoots hoops on the Crystal Beach basketball court while another group gathers and talks near the court. City makes social distancing condition for using golf course, basketball courts

COURIER STAFF REPORT

Effective immediately and continuing until the City of Madison is released from Governor Holcomb's Public Health Emergency Declaration, new procedures have been implemented at Sunrise Golf Course to protect golfers and the community from the spread of COVID-19.

Under the new procedures the golf course will be open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. daily, by tee time only, and choose-up games will not be allowed.

Only one person at a time will be allowed in the clubhouse for registration and only one person at a time will be allowed at the grill with carry-out service only.

In addition, no crowding of golfers or carts will be permitted and golfers must observe social distancing requirements with 6 feet of separation between players at all times. Only one person will be allowed per cart unless individuals are from the same household. Also, no handling of pin flags or ball washers will be allowed.

Signage listing the new temporary rules will be placed on each hole and there will be a course marshal in place to assist golfers.

"We believe these procedures will allow the continued operation of the golf course while providing safety for those enjoying outdoor recreation," said David Stucker, director of parks and recreation.

The city is also erecting signs at its basketball courts and shelter houses reinforcing social distancing mandates and asking residents to take appropriate action so that the city is not forced to close facilities for the well-being of its citizens.

"Safety for our entire community is our top priority," said Mayor Bob Courtney.

Temporary rules at the basketball courts — which were frequented by crowds off and on all weekend — will also go into effect including no pickup games, no more than two people on the court at a time, social distancing of at least 6 feet must be observed at all times and no crowds will be allowed around or near the courts.

The rules for shelter houses are much the same with no groups of more than 10 allowed and social distancing of 6 feet between people required for those who use the facility. Also, no crowding around or near the shelter house will be allowed.

The city campground will remain closed through April. The city will reevaluate this decision as needed.

As a reminder, all playgrounds had already been closed as they pose a high risk of spreading the virus.

"Parents need to step up and help us in this situation," said Hannah Fagen, director of community relations, adding that the Mayor wants residents to be able to recreate and exercise in city parks but only if that can be done safely.

"Governor Holcomb's stay-at-home order allows for cities to keep their parks open, providing the community with recreational opportunities and the option to enjoy the spring weather outdoors; however, social distancing guidelines must be followed. Violations of the procedures implemented will result in the closure of all parks and the golf course," said Courtney.

For more information about the new procedures, call the Sunrise Pro Shop at 812-265-8334 or the Parks Department at 812-265-8308.

"This is a sobering reminder of how critical it is to help prevent the spread of this virus and how important it is for all of us to do our part in following the state order to stay home. Let Us Pause to Honor the Memory of

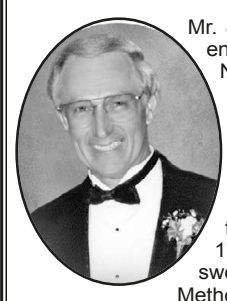
Mr. Steve Montgomery



Mr. Steve Montgomery, age 80 of Nabb, Indiana entered this life on November 30, 1939 in New Washington, Indiana. He was the loving son of Samuel A. and Helen Louise Davis Montgomery. He was raised in New Washington and was a 1957 graduate of New Washington High School where he excelled on the basketball team. Steve was employed with Chain Belt Company in Madison as the timekeeper for all of the employees. On March 17, 1962 Steve was united in marriage to his sweetheart Patti Laughlin at the Trinity United Methodist Church in downtown Madison. Their marriage brought out the very best in each other, and their happy union of 58 years was blessed with a daughter, Teri, and a son, Stephen. He and Patti decided that Madison was the perfect place to raise their family. On March 30, 1962, Steve was inducted into the United States Army in Jeffersonville, Indiana. He rose to the rank of Staff Sergeant during the Vietnam War Era and served in Company B, 5th Battalion, First Training Brigade at Fort Knox, Kentucky. On September 29, 1962 he transferred to the Reserves and attended Officers Training School. He was honorably discharged on January 29, 1968. After his time of active duty, he continued his employment with Chain Belt Company through its many changes over the next 32 years and retired from Rexnord as the cost accounting supervisor. In 1993, Steve and Patti moved back to the New Washington community and built the log cabin home that was so dear to them. Steve helped his parents with the cattle and crops, eventually taking over the farm. His garden was always a sight to behold, and he loved spending most of his time outdoors. He was often sighted cruising down Everman Road on his prized green Gator. Steve was an avid bowler for many years, and never missed a Thursday night with his bowling league. He also held membership for many years at the Madison Elks Lodge No. 524 and was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. Steve was beloved by all, with a quiet sense of humor and sparkling blue eyes. He was a man of few words, but his understated delivery would send the entire room into laughter. He had an innate love for animals of all kinds. His Herefords, his cats (especially PeeWee) and his Australian Shepherds Cowboy and Monty always held a special place in his heart. Steve was a devoted husband and a loving dad and brother. He dearly cherished being Papa to his two granddaughters. Steve passed away suddenly on Thursday evening, March 26, 2020, at his home near Nabb, Indiana.

A LOVING FAMILY

Steve will be missed by his loving wife of 58 years, Patti Laughlin Montgomery of Nabb, Indiana; his loving daughter, Teri Young and her husband, John of Boggstown, Indiana; his loving son, Steve Montgomery and his wife, Laureen of Carmel, Indiana; his beloved granddaughters, Morgan Elizabeth and Samantha Grace; his sisters, Karen Siewert and her husband, David of Jeffersonville, Indiana, Paula Stewart of Memphis, Indiana; his brother in law and sister in law, Bob and June Laughlin of Madison, Indiana; several nieces, nephews and other relatives. Readers reach out with suggestions for better communication

Dear Annie: I understand what "Unable To Open Up" is saying. I was never able to communicate with my parents. It carried over into my marriage and caused problems.

My suggestion is for him to write down his thoughts and feelings before he meets with the counselor. I have found that I can put thoughts into words on paper better than I can communicate verbally with someone.

Then he can hand her what he has written and they can go from there. Hope this helps. — Been There, Done That

Dear Been There: A great many readers suggested that writing down his feelings would be helpful for "Unable to Open Up." Here are two more letters with similar suggestions.

Annie Lane

Dear Annie: This is regarding "Unable to Open Up," the man has a difficult time opening up to his therapist about his feelings. It's very hard for me to open up, too. I can always write about my thoughts and feelings a lot better than talking about them.

A suggestion would be that he write down his thoughts and feelings. He could do this in private, when he's alone and not feeling put on the spot. Then either he or his therapist could read these notes during the following session. — Not Good on the Spot

Dear Annie: I'm responding to "Unable to Open Up," who asked how to maximize the value of the help of a therapist if he couldn't open up.

My suggestion is this: Try keeping a journal. Get a loose-leaf notebook that is specially dedicated to holding your thoughts and feelings related to your "buried anger" or any thoughts and feelings you have difficulty sharing. When you get a glimmer of one of those thoughts and feelings, write down as much as you can about it. Ask it questions. Get really calm and quiet and listen for answers.

Perhaps go for a walk and listen for answers on the walk. Then write down what you hear. Read what you have written. You may want to add an additional thought or reflection. Give your written piece a title and a date at the top of the page. Put it in your notebook.

Keep doing this over a period of time, say, a month. Then look over what you have written. See if there are any items you would like to shine more light on. Jot those on a list. Then keep your eyes open for answers to the questions you raise. When you get an answer, jot that down on a separate page. It might be a change in behavior or attitude. Write it down clearly and start practicing it.

Your psyche is like an onion. As you write about one layer and put that in the notebook, it will release energy for the next layer. Soon, you'll have a collection of wisdom and guidance that will free you up to share, perhaps with your spouse, a friend or a therapist.

I have seen this work hundreds of times. Write down what scares you, and describe it as clearly as you can. Gradually, that gets it out of your psyche so you can begin to make friends with it, learn what it needs and give it that. I hope you try this and communicate the results to Annie. — Working on an Intensive Journal

Dear Working: You make many great suggestions for uncovering our feelings, slowly and powerfully. Thank you.

THERE HAVE BEEN MANY THEORIES ABOUT HOW THE EGYPTIANS BUILT THESE MASSIVE PYRAMIDS.
I, FOR ONE, HAVE ALWAYS THOUGHT THAT ALIENS CONTRIBUTED THEIR VAST AND SOPHISTICATED KNOWLEDGE TO HELP CREATE THESE BEAUTIFUL STRUCTURES.
SO WHAT DID YOU GIVE THEM? TELEKINESIS? A MATTER TRANSFERENCE DEVICE? ANTI-GRAVITY BEAMS?
I ONCE GAVE SOMEONE A HIGH-FIVE FOR A REALLY GOOD BURP.

SOMETHING WRONG, SON?
I GOT VAN-SHAMED BECAUSE OF HOW MUCH SMOKE COMES FROM HER TAILPIPE.

SALLY FORTH

YOU GOT A JOB OFFER?
JUST A MINUTE AGO. FOR A BOUTIQUE CREATIVE AGENCY.
IT'S A CONSULTING JOB, SO IT'S ONLY TEMPORARY. AND IT'S FOR HUMAN RESOURCES, WHICH IS NOT EXACTLY WHAT I WANT TO DO, BECAUSE I WANT TO CHANGE CAREER PATHS.
3-31
SO, ARE YOU GOING TO TAKE IT?
MAYBE. I DON'T KNOW. SHOULD I? I ALREADY SAID YES.
KEEFE
ARE YOU SURE YOU WANT TO TAKE AN HR CONSULTING JOB? I THOUGHT YOU WANTED A DIFFERENT CAREER PATH.
I KNOW, I KNOW. BUT IT'S ONLY TEMPORARY. AND IT IS A JOB. AND I NEED TO WORK AGAIN, TED. I NEED TO GO SOMEWHERE OTHER THAN HERE. I NEED TO MEET NEW PEOPLE. I NEED DEADLINES AND STRUCTURE.
4-1
AND I NEED THE COMPLETE OPPOSITE OF ALL THAT.
I KNOW. BUT REMEMBER OUR AGREEMENT—WE BOTH WORK UNTIL WE WIN THE LOTTERY THAT WE NEVER PLAY.

BRIDGE

IF GIVEN A CHANCE, MAKE SURE TO CASH IN

Elbert Hubbard said, "A failure is a man who has blundered, but is not able to cash in on the experience."

A bridge player should cash in when an opponent blunders. That happened in today's deal.

In the auction, South was a tad worried about spades when he rebid two no-trump, but there wasn't anything else he could do. North wondered if they were missing a slam, but even five clubs would have failed if West had led a diamond.

Against three no-trump, West led the spade queen. Declarer saw eight top tricks (two spades, three hearts and three clubs) and no problems. He won with the spade king, played a club to his ace and returned a club. When West discarded a discouraging heart three, South still wasn't concerned. He played low from the board and let East take his club trick. What did East do next?

It looked as though the defenders had to take four diamond tricks now. If West had K-Q-x-x, K-10-8-x or K-10-7-x, the suit could be run.

Accurately, East switched to the diamond jack. West, after capturing South's queen with his king, returned the diamond six to East's ace. Now the diamond-two return defeated the contract, West having the 10-7 hovering over South's 8-5.

Well defended, but did South have a better line of play?

Of course he did! He shouldn't have given the defenders a chance. If he had won trick one in the dummy and played a club to the nine, he would have been safe. With West on lead, the defenders couldn't have taken four diamond tricks.

Tokyo Olympics rescheduled for July-August 2021

By STEPHEN WADE
AP Sports Writer

TOKYO — The Tokyo Olympics will open next year in the same time slot scheduled for this year's games.

Tokyo organizers said Monday the opening ceremony will take place on July 23, 2021 — almost exactly one year after the games were due to start.

"The schedule for the games is key to preparing for the games," Tokyo organizing committee president Yoshiro Mori said. "This will only accelerate our progress."

Last week, the IOC and Japanese organizers postponed the Olympics until 2021 because of the coronavirus pandemic.

This year's games were scheduled to open on July 24 and close on Aug. 9. But the near exact one-year delay will see the rescheduled closing ceremony on Aug. 8.

There had been talk of switching the Olympics to spring, a move that would coincide with the blooming of Japan's famous cherry blossoms. But it would also clash with European soccer and North American sports leagues.

Mori said a spring Olympics was considered but holding the games later gives more space to complete the many qualifying events that have been postponed by the virus outbreak.

"We wanted to have more room for the athletes to qualify," Mori said.

After holding out for weeks, local organizers and the IOC last week postponed the Tokyo Games under pressure from athletes, national Olympic bodies and sports federations. It's the first postponement in Olympic history, though there were several cancellations during wartime.

The Paralympics were rescheduled to Aug. 24-Sept. 5.

The new Olympic dates would conflict with the scheduled world championships in track and swimming, but those events are now expected to also be pushed back.

"The IOC has had close discussions with the relevant international federations," organizing committee CEO Toshiro Muto said. "I believe the IFs have accepted the games being held in the summer."

Muto said the decision was made Monday and the IOC said it was supported by all the international sports federations and was based on three main considerations: to protect the health of athletes, to safeguard the interests of the athletes and Olympic sport, and the international sports calendar.

"These new dates give the health authorities and all involved in the organisation of the Games the maximum time to deal with the constantly changing landscape and the disruption caused by the COVID-19 pandemic," the IOC said. "The new dates ... also have the added benefit that any disruption that the postponement will cause to the international sports calendar can be kept to a minimum, in the interests of the athletes and the IFs."

Both Mori and Muto have said the cost of rescheduling the Olympics will be "massive" — local reports estimate billions of dollars — with most of the expenses borne by Japanese taxpayers.

Muto promised transparency in calculating the costs, and testing times deciding how they are divided up.

Japan is officially spending $12.6 billion to organize the Olympics. However, an audit bureau of the Japanese government says the costs are twice that much. All of the spending is public money except $5.6 billion from a privately funded operating budget.

Madison Regatta still on, but committee is researching alternate dates; Guntersville canceled

The COVID-19 pandemic has affected all aspects of the sports world and on Monday, the Madison Regatta announced that it is looking into the possibility of moving this year's race and festival to an alternate date.

That announcement came on the same day that organizers in Guntersville, Alabama, announced that they have canceling their race for this year, which was scheduled to be run June 27-28. The Guntersville Lake HydroFest was to serve as the season opener to the 2020 H1 Unlimited hydroplane season.

Madison Regatta officials haven't gone that far yet, but Regatta President Matt True said that the board of directors is watching the situation closely and is researching possible alternate dates later in the year.

"We had a discussion at our last board meeting about looking at alternate dates. With the city instituting the 60-day furlough of festivals, the (Kentucky) Derby already rescheduling and the (Indianapolis) 500 rescheduling, we knew that it was something that we had to look at," True said Monday afternoon. "We're still beyond the mayor's 60-day window, but we're waiting to talk to the mayor and the governor and get their guidance on what we should do."

The Madison Regatta and Roostertail Music Festival are scheduled for July 3-5, still over three months away, but True said that considering the seriousness of the situation, he knew that the organization needed a plan moving forward.

While the plan right now is to keep the Regatta on its traditional Fourth of July weekend, True said the committee has been talking with H1 Unlimited, Grand Prix America, the City of Madison and the other festivals on possible alternative dates.

"We don't know what is going to come down from the mayor or from the governor and we need to be prepared," True said.

Moving the Madison Regatta is not an easy task. The event has been postponed only three times, twice because of river conditions in 1972 and 1998. While the 1972 race was delayed just a few days, the 1998 race was postponed until Labor Day Weekend and ended up losing so much money that the organization spent more than a decade digging out of debt.

A third delay, in 1974, came as a result of the deadly tornado outbreak that destroyed large swaths of Madison and Hanover. The tornado hit in early April and organizers decided shortly thereafter to push the event to October.

The timing of a delay this year, if needed, would mirror the 1974 postponement. True is hopeful if a postponement is needed, the extra time will help soften the blow of a new date.

"The hope is that it would give people who are making plans extra time in order to do things if it comes down that," he said.

There are plenty of factors that need to be considered before picking a new date, True said. Along with finding a date that works for both H1 Unlimited and Grand Prix America, the Regatta also needs to work with other festivals in the city in order to not step on each other's toes. Plus, there are outside factors to worry about as well.

"H1 Unlimited would like to see Labor Day weekend, but that's when the Derby has been rescheduled so we're not sure how that would work out," True said. "You've got to consider H1's schedule and GPA's schedule, what's going on in the city, the vendors and other people that provide services. There are a lot of moving parts."

True said that the Regatta has a board meeting scheduled for April 8 and will discuss all options at that time and right now, everything is still on the table.

"We're going to take our cue from the city and the governor and frankly, right now, we haven't heard from them much yet," True said. "But I'm sure that will change in the coming weeks."

The Madison Regatta's monthly membership meeting scheduled for Wednesday has already been canceled due to Indiana's stay at home mandate. The next scheduled meeting is May 6.

Guntersville canceled

Organizers of the Guntersville Lake Hydrofest announced the cancellation of that event on Monday morning.

The race, which is in its third year, was scheduled to open the 2020 H1 Unlimited season June 27-28. Rather than postponing to a later date, the race has been canceled outright and will be run on June 26-27, 2021.

"We appreciate our committee's hard work and we will continue to plan next year's event. We are thankful to our sponsors who are staying with us, already committed to 2021, and the racing organizations — H1 Unlimited and Powerboat Nationals — who are supporting our decision," the site said in a release. "All those involved understand the financial challenges and the travel restrictions have all but halted our planning process."

Refunds for the 2020 event will be issued. The site said that the process for refunds began on Monday.

Timmy Hill wins NASCAR's live iRacing event

By JENNA FRYER
AP Auto Racing Writer

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — Bob Weir of the Grateful Dead sang the national anthem from a remote location. Troy Aikman, borrowing Matthew McConaughey's trademark phrase "All right, all right, all right," commanded drivers to start their, uh, simulators.

NASCAR's new normal resumed Sunday with another virtual event, the second in an iRacing series thrown together after the coronavirus pandemic stopped nearly all sports. NASCAR's 36-race season was suspended four events into the year.

Timmy Hill won the virtual race at Texas Motor Speedway, where a highlight came when Daniel Suarez was parked by iRacing officials for intentionally trying — but failing — to crash Ty Dillon.

Hill is considered among the top competitors in iRacing, a subscription-based gaming platform. His virtual victory was his 674th in the game.

Fox Sports again used its team of Mike Joy and Hall of Famer Jeff Gordon to call the race, which was aired both on Fox in some markets and nationwide on its cable channel.

The first iRacing event last Sunday drew 903,000 viewers to Fox Sports One and was the most watched esports event in U.S. history, bettering the 770,000 viewers Mortal Combat drew to The CW in 2016. That led Fox to offer affiliates the option to air the Texas virtual race on broadcast.

Those who tuned in watched a live video game of 35 NASCAR racers competing at an exact replica of Texas Motor Speedway, where the series was scheduled to be Sunday before the coronavirus shutdown. Fox was able to obtain feeds of drivers racing on simulators everywhere from their bedrooms, basements, garages and, in the case of last week's winner, Denny Hamlin's living room.

Clint Bowyer was the in-race reporter again, but when the booth cut to him to ask about an early race incident, he gave a quick update and shooed Joy and Gordon away.

"You guys are bothering me, sorry," Bowyer said.

Alex Bowman again entertained fans via social media with commentary. It included his tweet "I just virtually drove through somebody," after a wreck. Bowman also missed his pit stall, was speeding on pit road, bemoaned his need for a snack and ultimately decided "I'm a disaster."

Chase Elliott, racing in striped socks, posted a video during a commercial break of his feet working the pedals. Michael McDowell talked fans through his pit decisions. With racing on hold and drivers desperate to give exposure to their teams and sponsors, Hill's virtual victory gave him a rare live opportunity to thank his sponsors.
